It has come to my attention that [redacted] has recently completed a feasibility study of a rail-mobile Titan Missile System. As you know, very little work has been done in this country on the subject of operational rail-mobile deployment of an ICBM System. Since our interest in the ICBM as an intelligence problem requires the study of all possible methods of deployment, we would greatly appreciate receiving a copy of this study and the photographs of the model which [redacted] showed [redacted] of this Agency in November.

With respect to the proprietary nature of this study, you may be assured that it will be utilized for background use only and will be made available only to Agency employees who require the information in the performance of their official duties. Access to the study by personnel from other government agencies will be made subject to whatever limitations [redacted] may wish to impose.
